

Responding to Florence

October/September | 2018

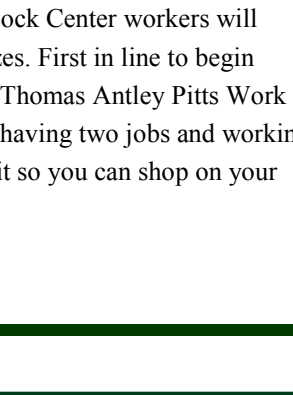

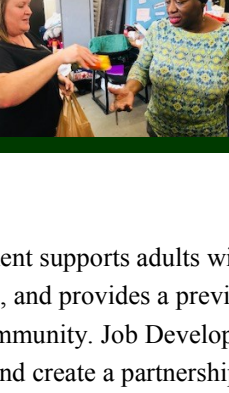

Babcock Center opened two Work Activity Centers to be used as evacuation shelters for our friends from the Disabilities Board of Charleston County. Our dedicated DSP's and administrative staff worked around the clock to provide a safe and comfortable environment. South Carolina Department of Disabilities and Special Needs State Director, Mary Poole joined Babcock Center's President/CEO Thoyd B. Warren in putting smiles on the faces of those affected by the evacuation.

We Love You to Pieces

While preparing for hurricane Florence the Babcock Center Community also spent time celebrating the integrity, compassion, accountability, respect and excellence of our Direct Support Professionals (DSP). Brooke Russell, Senior Director of Operations and Carol Wells, Director of Employment/Day Supports spent a day personally thanking DSPs for their efforts.

She Works Hard for the Money

Babcock Center's Industrial Services Department supports adults with lifelong disabilities to enter into the workforce, and provides a previously untapped source of labor to the business community. Job Developer, Mike Bell was able to introduce our services and create a partnership with Nephron Pharmaceuticals where Babcock Center workers will work to assemble boxes in two different sizes. First in line to begin training was Tasha, who also works on the Thomas Antley Pitts Work Activity Center cleaning crew. Tasha likes having two jobs and working hard, "working hard during the day makes it so you can shop on your days off".
